WLPD Swears in Two New Officers

September 11, 2018

Today WLPD welcomed two new Probationary Officers bringing the agency to full staff at 50 Officers. The application process began nearly six months ago and after a rigorous and competitive testing process, two candidates stood out amongst the applicants.

Branden M. Brooks:

Officer Brooks is 25 years of age and comes to us from Crawfordsville, IN where he most recently served as a Corrections Officer with the Montgomery County Sheriff's Department. Officer Brooks proudly served our country in the United States Marine Corp from 2012-2016.

Jennifer McIntire:

Officer McIntire is 24 years of age and comes to us from Griffith, IN. Officer McIntire is a 2017 Purdue University graduate where she obtained her Bachelor of Arts degree. While completing her undergraduate degree, she served as an intern with the Highland Police Department as well as HITDA (High Intensity Drug Trafficking Area), which is a group of local, state, and federal law enforcement agencies who combat drug trafficking in Northern Indiana.

Both officers will begin their training in our Field Training Program and have been slated to attend the Indiana Law Enforcement Academy in early October.

Respectfully,

Troy Harris
Interim Chief of Police
